During the night, there was a noise at the door. Perhaps it was someone at the front, but no one was there.

The noise woke me up. I thought it might be a burglar, but there was no one.

I asked my husband to check on it, but he said it was just the wind.

After a while, I decided to go to sleep again. I was tired and didn't want to be awake all night.

Consequently, she reported to moi that the relationship was not good. Based on the recommendation, we recommended to the board, apart from information on who had different aims than the Qld.

She was not the only one who didn't want to stay. We pulled up the issue of whether the information could be used in the future.

It was not clear how the situation was handled, but it seemed to have been resolved. We didn't think it was necessary to discuss it with the board as the situation was handled as it was.

Regarding the issue of the address, it was recommended that it be removed. It was noted that the person in question had been in another location for a long time, and that information was provided.

The information was handled in a normal manner, and the situation was considered.

The board was not informed of the previous incident, but it was noted that the address was removed.

As there was no further information, it was decided to close the case with a comment.
